Disclaimer

You have reached a website (“site”) maintained by the law firm of Rushton, Stakely, Johnston, & Garrett, P.A. (“Firm”). Rushton Stakely is a professional association of attorneys based in Montgomery, Alabama. Use of this site is subject to the following terms of use. Your use of this site constitutes your acceptance of these terms. If you do not accept these terms, please immediately discontinue use of the site.

The content of this site, and any subsequent modification thereto, constitutes general information only and does not constitute legal, accounting, tax, career or other professional advice of any kind. The Content of this Site should not be relied upon or utilized as a substitute for consultation with qualified, licensed professional advisors.

Your use of this Site does not create a lawyer-client relationship between you and this Firm or any Rushton Stakely lawyer.

Among other things, we must evaluate for potential conflicts of interest involved in potential legal representation, so please refrain from sending any substantive information regarding a matter to us until first contacting one of our attorneys and allowing us to assess for conflicts of interest. No information you submit to us via this site or by electronic mail will be considered a lawyer-client communication or otherwise be treated as confidential or privileged unless there is a pre-existing express written agreement to the contrary (typically evidenced by an “engagement letter”) between the sender and a Rushton Stakely lawyer.

While every reasonable effort has been made to ensure the accuracy of the content herein, occasional inadvertent omissions and inaccuracies may nonetheless occur.

Any specific results, verdicts, outcomes, or testimonials described on this site are specific to the matter referenced and do not constitute an indication of future results. Every legal matter is unique, and each matter must be evaluated on its own facts and circumstances within the context of applicable law. The evaluation, merit, or "worth" of any case depends on the facts, the injuries, the venue, parties and witnesses, among other factors. Nothing on this site should be interpreted as a guarantee of any particular result in any legal matter.

Rushton Stakely is comprised of attorneys licensed to practice law in the states of Alabama, Georgia, and Florida. The Content of this Site may be considered advertising for legal services under the laws and rules of professional conduct of the jurisdictions in which our lawyers practice. Hiring a lawyer is an important decision that should not be based solely upon written information contained on this site or other information about the qualifications and experience of the Firm and its attorneys.

Rushton Stakely has endeavored to comply with all applicable legal and ethical requirements regarding law firm web sites. Rushton Stakely does not intend to enter into a lawyer-client relationship arising out of a review of any portion of this site that does not comply with applicable legal or ethical requirements of any jurisdiction to which the site is subject.

To the extent that a bar rule or regulation of a jurisdiction may mandate the designation of a principal locale for firm operations or a single contact attorney, Rushton Stakely hereby designates its Montgomery, Alabama offices as its principal locale and Ben C. Wilson as the contact attorney for matters associated with this web site.

The following language is required by the Alabama Rules of Professional Conduct: No representation is made that the quality of legal services to be performed is greater than the quality of legal services performed by other lawyers.
